

Cyclists will find quaint villages and plenty of attractions riding through La Sarthe à vélo—23 miles of trails in La Sarthe, north-west France

TRAVEL GUIDE

Say Velo, wave goodbye

WANT TO SEE SOME OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL VILLAGES AND CASTLES IN FRANCE? RIDE THE 23-MILE LA SARTHE À VELO TRAIL.

By BRUCE WATSON
 Photo by CHRISTOPHER WATSON

There's a lot to be enjoyed on the La Sarthe à vélo trail, which winds through some of the most beautiful villages and castles in France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France.

The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France.

There's a lot to be enjoyed on the La Sarthe à vélo trail, which winds through some of the most beautiful villages and castles in France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France.

The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France.

There's a lot to be enjoyed on the La Sarthe à vélo trail, which winds through some of the most beautiful villages and castles in France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France.

The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France. The trail is a mix of paved and gravel paths, and it's a great way to see some of the best of France.

- Where to stay: La Sarthe à vélo has several accommodation options, including hotels, B&Bs, and campsites.
- Where to eat: There are many restaurants and cafes along the trail, offering a variety of French cuisine.
- Where to shop: There are several shops and boutiques in the villages along the trail.
- Where to see: The trail passes through some of the most beautiful villages and castles in France.
- Where to go: The trail is a great way to see some of the best of France.

WATSON (2)
 (3) WATSON
 (4) WATSON